Background: State Agencies for Higher Education:
1959: Liaison Committee on Higher education
Higher Education Facilities Commission
1965: combined into the Liaison and Facilities Commission
1967: becomes the MHECC
1997: becomes Higher Education Services Office
These agencies sought to expand higher education in Minnesota, to make it more readily available to citizens. They also acknowledged that private colleges meant that Minnesota taxpayers paid at a lower rate for higher education. Specifically, the HESO:
1) supported access to a wide variety of post secondary educational opportunities
2) enhanced efficiency within higher education
3) protected consumers of higher education?
4) informed citizens about higher education and how to prepare for it academically and financially
The State of Minnesota set up a Liaison Committee to plan and coordinate public higher education in 1959. Private colleges were invited to send a representative every year. In June 1964, private colleges were offered full membership (See “Liaison Committee report, 1963-65”, p.3). In 1967, the MHECC began granting scholarships; these reflected provisions of the 1963 and 1965 federal education acts, and acts of the state legislature. In 1971, these scholarships were extended to private colleges under the “Private College Contract Program.” This system proved from $200 to $500 for every Minnesota resident enrolled above the 1970 enrollment figure. (See folder “Private College Contracts, 1972- ---.”)

Alliss Scholarships: The Charles and Ellora Alliss Educational Foundation
Charles Alliss died on September 11, 1958. His will set up the foundation: “Other things being equal, preference should be given to residents of Minnesota …also same preference for nurses training [sic] in those colleges that offer the subject. This latter provision was revoked on April 3, 1968.

CSS was the only Catholic college included in the program. In the fall of 1960, eight scholarships at $750 each were granted to the college. St. Ann Edward Scanlon described this as the “largest scholarship” grant in the history of the college. In 1962, the number of scholarships was doubled. In 1963, nineteen became available. The value of the scholarship rose to $1,000 per in 1968, “without diminution in number.” Later that year the number rose to twenty.

In 1969 the trustees allowed the grants to be used for scholarships or for loans. CSS awarded the scholarships on the basis of academic (3.00 GPA) and financial need conditions. Often the dollar value of ⁶ This date does not appear in the volume. It is determined from internal evidence. “The entire space of one floor of the building constructed in 1913” was devoted to physical sciences (p. 7). Later Bulletins say that this building was “erected in 1914” [IV (1924 [-25]), 11]. Also, the Frequent Communion Circle (pp. 59-60), which began in 1907, was being obedient to the rulings of “the reigning Pontiff,” Pius X, who died on August 20, 1914.

The Bulletin includes sections on the purpose of the college, its setting, class offerings, calendars, information on administration and faculty, etc. Earlier volumes put great stress on the preparation of the faculty for college teaching and on the facilities of the campus. Starting with Volume XXV (1947-48), less space is given to the latter, and courses are listed before the administration and faculty sections.

\(^{12}\) It was reported that F.X. Shea termed this “interim bulletin...a schizophrenic union of Winton individuality with stringent requirements” and hoped “the people preparing material for the new bulletin would endeavor to remove this dichotomy.” [See Faculty Meeting Minutes at 1/11/73.]

The sections on "Purpose," "Educational Objectives," "Commitment," and "Mission Statement" (the title varies between earlier and later editions) give evidence of how the college struggled to express its identity and goals in a time of sweeping social, ecclesiastical, political, and educational changes. These efforts can be traced through the following statements:

Vol. III (1921), p. 5
Vol. XV (1937-38), pp. 17-18, 21
Vol. XXV (1947-48), p. 8
(1962-64), p. 5
(1966-68), p. 5 (whole page)
(1973-74), p. 5
(1982-86), p. 4 (1882-84)
(1986-88), pp. 4-5 (with commentary)
(1995-97), p. 5 (longer form)

Rules about attendance and absence briefly illustrate the point. The Announcement (1914) noted that although "no undue influence" toward Catholicism would be directed to non-Catholic students, in the interest of "maintenance of order and discipline all are obliged to attend the various religious exercises" (p. 5).

In 1938-39, non-Catholic students "were required to attend those religious services prescribed for the whole student body." These included Mass at the opening and close of the academic year, and the baccalaureate service (XVI: 28).

In 1950-51 the annual Retreat, weekly convocations and the Honors Convocation were added to the list obliging all students (XXVIII: 18).

In 1962-64, only Catholic students were required to attend the Masses, Retreat, and baccalaureate services; all students had to attend the weekly and honors convocations (p.15).

In 1974-75 religious services were "provided (though not required) for Catholics and non-Catholics" (p. 5).

In 1993-95: "religious life" last index entry; various religious activities are "open to all" (p. 9).

6/10/02 College of St. Scholastica  Official Bulletin
(1943-44) to (1967-68)

“All students are held responsible for all notices on this weekly report.”

Stenciled or dittoed on 8½” by 11” paper. Appeared weekly during the academic year.

Bulletins from September, 1943, to June, 1950, are stapled by year between blue covers; those from September 1950 to June 1958 are bound together between brown covers. Issues from September, 1958, to May, 1968, are stapled by year at an upper corner. Starting in September, 1961, the Official Bulletins are stapled according to semester: September to December, 1961, February to May, 1962. (The division of these collected notices, and the resulting reduced thickness, may have matched the binding power of a single staple more efficiently.) These packets are held in a brown expansion file with the brand name, “vertical file pocket.”

The Official Bulletin published notices of events, such as the annual retreat, holy days and funerals, convocations, recitals and plays, meetings of clubs and societies, rehearsals for choir and baccalaureate, proper attire for this and the Bishop’s visit (“courtesy requires that no lipstick be worn”), the yearly visit by the mobile X-Ray Unit, summer employment opportunities, and so forth.

The Official Bulletin also encouraged students to attend these affairs. Common phrases: “all will be present;” “all will wish to be present;” “all must be present;” “Roman Catholics must be present;” and “Role call will be taken.” It was “disrespect to speakers” to bring reading material to the weekly convocations (November 13, 1952).

Names not handed in at announced events appeared in the next issue of the bulletin, and explanations were sought. Students were “not to cross off a name on this Official Bulletin!” (at November 15-19, 1948).

Starting in 1958, the Official Bulletins focused more exclusively on informational notices; the supervisory, prescriptive, disciplinary content and tone of the early issues dropped away. For example, one speaker “will talk to anyone interested” (April 13, 1965); “all members please attend” (May 25, 1965).

The Official Bulletin provided information on certain significant aspects of CSS life:

- The “Pine Cone” Issue (proper use of smoking room) (March 10, 1949)
- The “Absence Policy” (at October 10-14, 1949; October 1-5, 1951; September 29-October 5, 1952; and February 20, 1959)
- Method of electing the “All College Woman” (ditto inserts at February 13, 1950)
- Dangers of walking on Kenwood Avenue (October 17, 1951)
- How the College Ideals were voted upon (at February 2-9 and 12-16, 1951; and February 4-8, 1952)
- Skirts to be worn in the building (April 19, 1952 and at May 9-16, 1952)
- CSS Radio Club broadcasts with UMD Newman Club (at March 24-28, 1952)
- Objectives of the College (at January 25-29, 1954)
- Tests in Academic Areas announced (April 9, 1959)
- Commendation to student body for friendliness (December 18, 1962)

- Vote on the Leadership Award (February 1, 1968)

6/10/2.5 “Do You Know?” (1973)

6/10/03 “On the Agenda”

on 3/17/75 becomes “a weekly communication”

no OTAs between 10/13/75 to 11/14/75

no OTAs between 1/7/77 to 5/6/77

on 9/30/77 now a “biweekly”

no OTA for November, 1979

on 5/3/80 now “A Publication” [a monthly?]

“On the Agenda” attempted to provide communication from the president to the faculty and students. It gave Stender’s travel schedule and meetings with other educators; recorded congratulations for faculty achievements; announced special events, and in general supplied readers with news of what the President was doing for the college and its people. A notice dated 10/8/82 said that “On the Agenda” would expand into an internal newsletter coordinated by the Public Relations Department. Faculty were asked to suggest a name for the new publication. October 18, 1982 was the first appearance of “Notes from Dan Pilon.” By 10/29/82, the most favored name for the newsletter was “Inside Times” —a single format for all internal college communications. Contains Inside Times (2000-2009)

On 8/26/94, the first installment of “People of Scholastica” profiles appeared. The “Inside Times” expanded the internal communications model of “On the Agenda.” The new publication was able to present much more news about persons, meetings, scheduled events of all kinds, new academic programs etc. As befits a PR sheet, it consistently revealed a concern for the image of the college and its contributions to the broader community.

It is difficult to know if these files are complete; the sheet was “a regular publication” (every Friday except holidays) but at times gaps appear in the dating. Many issues seem to be missing for 1991-92. Nevertheless, the collection contains plenty of useful information about the goings on of CSS life.

Editors: Bob Aschenmacher, July, 1994 to present
Julie Ahasay, 1982 to 1994
Before these: Pat Daugherty, Margaret Jensen, Tom Livingston

6/50/01 Scholastica Times and St. Scholastica Magazine “…prepared and edited by the Scholastica Office of Publications and Information Services…three times a year, Fall, Winter and Spring Quarter.” Files are not complete; some years a summer edition appeared. It changed its name to St. Scholastica Magazine in the summer issue which came out in June of 2014.

Due to different sizes of the publication, copies of the Scholastica Times are housed in two boxes:

\(^{22}\) Fr. Shea came to the Winton Meeting, January 1972, with the Winton Plan thought out. He led the participants in the meeting to adopt his ideas. When authorized by the faculty and Trustees, Shea then appointed to carry out the Winton Plan faculty who had not been at the Winton sessions. They had to rely on his interpretation of its measures. In this way he was able to revolutionize the CSS curriculum. (Sr. Margaret Clarke to JWE, May 16, 2001)

Faculty Bulletin (1956-57)

Faculty Institutes

Records of the Fall Faculty Institutes are in Faculty Meeting Minutes [7/05]. The institute in September, 1950, was announced as “The Ninth Annual…” but there is no record or mention of institutes before October, 1944. It is possible that the opening faculty meeting of each new school year was called an “institute” because of the introduction / initiation of new faculty members, special business to be covered, etc. Some of them were designed around themes.

1942 to 1943: No Mention of an Institute
1944 (10/2): Mentioned with short report; includes “clubs”
1945: No Mention of an Institute
1946 (8/22): Address by Dr. Roy DeFerrreri of The Catholic University of America summarized (9/15-17): Persistent Needs of College Students
1947 (9/3-4): Personalizing Education
1948 (9/15-16): Christianizing Instruction
1949 (9/7-8): The Challenge: To Translate Goals to Practice
1950 (9/6-7): The Valiant Christian Woman [Ninth Annual] 1951 (9/9-11): Careful to Keep the Unity of the Spirit [Tenth Annual]
1952 to 1956: [No Mention of an Institute]
1957 (9/12-13): Sixteenth Annual Faculty Institute [program only: Faculty Growth and Improvement of Instruction]
1958 to 1959: [No Mention of an Institute]
1960 (9/8): Faculty Institute = faculty divided into groups “for concerted work on the Faculty Handbook”
1961 (9/8): Faculty Institute = faculty meeting
1962 (9/14): Mentioned with summary

SOURCES: Information on the origin, purposes and activities of student clubs, sororities, etc., comes from the yearbooks (usually under "Organizations"). Unfortunately, CSS did not publish a yearbook from 1974 through 1987. Information for these years can be found in the CSS Student Handbook (SHB), which “is intended to supplement information provided in the CSS Bulletin” [see SHB (1972-73), title page]. The SHB is called “Stepping Stones” starting in 1972-73. Lists of organizations here are not always complete. However, SHB is also a valuable source for other college matters: institutional philosophy, purpose, policies, regulations, etc.

THE DECLINE OF CSS GREEK LETTER ORGANIZATIONS
1) During the 1960s, Greek Letter Societies (GLS) lost prestige among students because:
   a) campus activism and political involvement
   b) student search for alternative ways of living
   c) evidence of racial discrimination among some GLS
   d) great increase in the number of commuting students between 1965-72, GLS lost 20% of members
      GLS began a comeback in the 1980s.
      [See Laurence Vesey, “Fraternities and sororities,” Academic American Encyclopedia, VIII, 288.]
2) Meanwhile, at CSS, the GLS were sororities; the college enrolled males from 1969 on.
3) The CSS SHB lists:
   (1972-73) lists 24 student organizations of which 10 are GLS
   (1976-77) lists 16 student organizations of which 3 are GLS
   (1979-80) lists 27 student organizations of which 1 is GLS: Alpha Chi

THE TRANSFORMATION OF CSS ALPHA CHI
The Alpha Chi Sorority began c1930 as a social club for non-resident students. It is listed in CSS Yearbooks until the 1961-62 academic year. The 1962-63 yearbook does not list an Alpha Chi under “Organizations,” but shows pictures of “Day Hops” under “Activities.” No mention of “Day Hops” appears in subsequent yearbooks. Then, in the 1969-70 yearbook, Alpha Chi returns as an Honor Society. Alpha Chi continues as an honor society, making its last appearance in the SHB (1981-82). Correspondence in the Alpha Chi folder shows that in 1983, CSS withdrew from that national honor society in favor of a local, Kappa Sigma Sigma. It is listed in the “Student Organization Directory” for 1984-85, n.p. (in “Campus Clubs and Organization Overview” folder).

PURPOSE

“Official publication of the College of St. Scholastica. Issued every second and fourth Wednesday of the month by the members of the Journalism Department. Subscription: $1.25. Single copies. 10
Sister Mary Digna [Birmingham], Faculty Advisor” (Vol. 1, p. 2.)
Sister Digna served as advisor for twenty-seven years. In 1959, a nine member staff replaced the journalism class in editing the Scriptorium, with James Hagle as advisor.
from 1959 to 1962 [see XXIX (October 14, 1959), 3 and XXXI (May 16, 1962), 1]. Subsequent advisors were Mary Motherway [see XXXII (November 21, 1962), 2 and XXXII (December 19, 1962), 2] and Rex Hudson [see XXXIII (October 24, 1963), 2 to end of file]. Scriptorium was awarded “All Catholic” rating from the Catholic School Press Association for twenty-three years; in 1955 it merited a “Newspaper of Distinction” rating. [see XXV (October 26, 1955), 1].

OMISSIONS AND CORRECTIONS
The holdings contain thirty-three volumes, dating from 1932 to 1969. Vols XXIX to XXXVIII are incomplete, contain incomplete issues, issues bound out of order, and mutilated pages. Scriptorium was typically four pages in length; issues around Christmas, Feasts of Mary, and St. Patrick’s Day usually appeared in red, blue or green ink. Volumes 1-5 are bound; the pages measure 10 3/8” by 13 6/8”. Pages of subsequent volumes measure 12” by 6” and are bound as Volumes 5-14 (1936-45), 15-24 (1945-55), and 25-33 (1955-63 [sic])

The Daily began on October 1, 1969. It was intended “to serve everyone” as “the official Scholastica publication…fully sanctioned by our Student Council and Administration.” It “does replace the Scriptorium” and would “air issues…as well as carry the routine announcements.” It was printed every weekday. At times it is named Daily Notices, (September 11, 1979 to May 16, 1983) and simply Daily (September 9, 1983 to April 8, 1992). Under this name it became “a publication of the Cable.” From this time on it appeared to carry only “Official School Announcements.” The files are not complete, but still offer abundant information on Scholastica goings on and opinion.

The Daily began on October 1, 1969. It was intended “to serve everyone” as “the official Scholastica publication…fully sanctioned by our Student Council and Administration.” It “does replace the Scriptorium” and would “air issues…as well as carry the routine announcements.” It was printed every weekday. At times it is named Daily Notices, (September 11, 1979 to May 16, 1983) and simply Daily (September 9, 1983 to April 8, 1992). Under this name it became “a publication of the Cable.” From this time on it appeared to carry only “Official School Announcements.” The files are not complete, but still offer abundant information on Scholastica goings on and opinion.

OVERVIEW
The files begin in 1976 with Volume XVIII. The C.S.S. Cable is the “official student newspaper.” Volumes XVIII and XIX for the 1976-1977 school year are published every Tuesday and Friday. Starting with Volume XX for the 1977-78 school year it is published every Wednesday except during vacations and examination weeks. Volume XXI identifies it as the “official campus newspaper” and it is published every Friday, except during vacations and examination weeks.

The series sometimes skips numbers in the sequence or repeats the same number as much as three times. For most years the files are complete. For Volumes XVIII and XIX the usual length of the paper was 6 to 10 pages on 8 ½” by 11” paper. Starting with Volume XX, the usual length of the paper was eight to twelve pages per issue; the pages measured 16” by 11 ½”.

Volumes XXVII through XXIX presented a paper of twelve pages titled simply CABLE. The new format featured a different campus program with each issue. For these volumes the page size was reduced to 14” by 11 ½”.

The editor bore the title, “Editor in Chief” for Volumes XVIII into XXVI. There after the title was “Managing Editor” until Volume XXXII, when it reverted back to “Editor in Chief.”

17/20/20/02 Inscape [Vol. 1 (1955) to Vol. 16 (1971)]

THE DATE OF ORIGIN for this publication is uncertain. In the spring of 1955, the intention to publish an “as yet unnamed” literary magazine was announced [Scriptorium, XXIV (May 25, 1955), 1]. Towers for the academic year 1955-56 identifies the “literary quarterly,” as Inscape (p. 85) and the faculty advisor as Warren G. Coffey, professor of English (pp. 11 and 85). Towers for 1956-57 indicates that Inscape “began last year” (p. 79). Yet both Volume I, # 1 and Volume II, # 1 carry the date, “Winter, 1956.” It is possible that Inscape I (Winter, 1956), #1 was ready for publication during the early weeks of the second semester of the 1955-56 academic year; i.e., in January-February, 1956; and that Inscape II (Winter, 1956), # 1 was published at the end of the first semester of the 1956-57 academic year; i.e, November-December. An anomaly: although described as a “quarterly,” Inscape regularly appeared twice a year.

THE NAME for the periodical comes from a term that the Jesuit poet, Gerard Manley Hopkins, coined for “the very soul of art.” He explained that “in nature outward beauty is the proof of inward beauty, outward good of inward good.” In other words, the designs and patterns in nature are the visible manifestations of the invisible “inscape.” [See I (Winter, 1956), 4]. The concept is also sometimes expressed as “inner landscapes,” and can find exemplification in urban as well as natural settings [See XII (Winter, 1966), 4]. The editors saw Inscape as carrying on the literary tradition of Institute Echoes (1902) which became the Villa Sancta Scholastica Quarterly in 1910 (to 1929?), which was replaced by Scriptorium in 1932 [See I (Winter, 1956), 12].

THE INSCAPE COLLECTION comprises three large cloth-bound volumes [dark blue, 6 ½” by 9 ½” ]:

- Volumes 1 to 6 (Winter, 1955, to Spring, 1961)
  [Volume 2 (Winter, 1956) is missing]
- Volumes 7 to 12 (Winter, 1961, to Spring, 1967)
- Volumes 13-16 (Winter, 1967, to Spring, 1971)
  [Volume 14 (Spring, 1969) is missing]

Inscape averaged about 40 pages per volume, ranging from 30 pp. the first volume to 52 pp. in 14 (Winter, 1968).

With III (Winter, 1957), #1, the publication began to receive ratings: “First Honors” from the Catholic School Press Association, and “First Class” from the Collegiate Press Association. Over the years, these varied between “All Catholic,”
“Publication of Distinction” and “First Honors” from the CSPA, and between “First Class,” “First Honors” and “All American Honors” from the CPA. Volume XVI (1970-71) received no ratings. The Student Hand Book for that same academic year noted that Inscape was “an award winning literary magazine” (p. 41). It was the only time the SHB had done so. Faculty advisors were first listed in XIV (Winter, 1968), Sr. Sarah Smedman followed by John Schifsky, XV (Winter, 1969) to the end of the collection.

17/20/30 Principally Literary Publications - “Unofficial” Publications (sponsored by CSS Departments or individuals)
17/20/30/01 The Avanti [November, 1979 to January, 1980]
“not the official CSS newspaper…published sporadically, and funded by donations from our staff and readers…We reserve the right to oppose censorship.”

This alternative newspaper featured opinion pieces by students and faculty. Usually printed on 8 ½” by 11” stock, printed on both sides, it was usually four pages in length. It apparently could not raise funds to continue after its issue of I (January 25, 1980), #3 [really is # 4]. Minutes of the FAC for November 16, 1979; “Avanti was discussed objectively. It was felt that this was an effort for students to express views which would provoke. The concern was that the faculty would over react. It was felt that the publication was of poor quality from an academic and intellectual point of view.”

17/20/30/02 The CSS [Spring 1989]
An “underground” newspaper “not a school funded publication.” According to Susan Christensen, Administrative Assistant to President Daniel Pilon, only two issues appeared: I (Spring, 1989), # 1 and #2. The idea was to present controversial issues that the alleged conservative CSS administration allegedly would not allow to be aired.

Tracey Johnson, News Editor of The Cable reviewed the first issue: “The CSS” was “too subjectively editorial and it lacks credibility because of its absence of direct quotes and concrete evidence/facts.” She argued that the publication “cannot encourage controversial issues where there are none to be found [on a] terminally apathetic campus.”

17/20/30/03 Fable [1998]
One issue of this alternative newspaper appeared in 1998. “…all the stories are just made up…right out of our wacky heads” claimed its editors, Jim Biros and Joe Wicklund. For the most part, issues of the Fable are filed within their respective years, usually at the end of the academic school year as this newspaper is a spoof at the end of the year.

The years and volumes the Fable has been published include:

Note: Strictly speaking, these three publications should be classified as newspapers. However, their lives were short and their orientation was more toward editorializing on issues than recording news. They seem to serve better as evidence of contemporary CSS student writing and opinion than as sources for college activities.

OVERVIEW OF CSS YEARBOOKS

TITLES:
The original title of the yearbooks was “The Towers.”
The series begins in 1937 and runs unbroken to 1959. In 1959 and 1960, the “yearbook” consists of a brochure (8 pp. and 16 pp. respectively) providing pictures of the graduating class for each of those years. In 1961, the series continues as “The Towers.”
In 1962 the title “Towers” appears. This continues until 1973.
The volumes 1974 to 1987 are missing. No yearbooks were published between 1973-1978 [C.S.S. Cable (September 29, 1978), 3]; lack of student interest blocked efforts to produce a yearbook for the 1978-79 school year [ibid., (December 18, 1978), 10]. [See also ibid., XXXI (October 21, 1987), 3.]
In 1988 the title becomes “Tower.” This is a brochure of 15 pp. for graduates only. In 1989 “Tower” appears in a book format again.
The last yearbook is 2000-2001. As the Student Senate would no longer pay for it, it is no longer produced.

CONTENTS, YEAR by YEAR

“The Towers” from 1937 to 1958 are more or less consistent in contents. In addition to pictures and names of faculty, students, clubs, activities, etc., most volumes present a Theme and a Dedication. There is also a section on the “Ideals of Saint Scholastica.” Most also have a Calendar or Chronicle; not all of these report a “spiritual retreat.” From 1942 to 1947, “The Towers” won six consecutive “1st Class All American Honor Ratings” from the National Scholastic Press Association. It won another such rating in 1949, and “2nd Class Honor Ratings” from 1954 to 1957. From 1938 to 1945, the yearbook won eight consecutive “All Catholic” awards from the Catholic School Press Association. It won seventeen such awards in the twenty-one years from 1938 to 1958.

One can also find “An Explanation of the Arms of the College” (1940); a short history of the college (1942 and 1956); a history of the Marian Sodality and explanation of the Nursing Pin (1958), and Newman’s idea of a liberal education (1962). The first color photograph of Tower Hall (“The Administration Building”) appears in 1946.

Between the yearbooks of 1959 to 1969 changes in format appear. It is difficult to find succinctly stated Themes or Dedications. In 1962 the “Ideals” section gives way to the “St. Scholastica Leadership Award.” The section devoted to “Underclassmen” appears (1964). Prominent non-Catholic writers are quoted on the division pages between sections: Kahil Gibron (1965), Dag Hammarskjold (1966), Yevgeny Yevtuschenko (1968, but not consistently).

“Towers” for 1969 represents a dramatic break with the past. The mood of the whole volume recalls the “flower power” poster art of the 1960s or the Marshall McLuhan inspired revolution in media. T. S. Eliot appears on the division pages. Everything else is mostly pictures without captions, with pages decorated with flowers in profile. An essay on the Native American view of white society (“Civilized Blindness”) appears along with a picture of its source, a resident of Grand Portage, Raymond Duhaime. No leadership award is recorded for that year, or any year that follows.

For 1970 and after, the impression is more pictures, less captions. “Towers” for 1972 seems to acknowledge the co-ed nature of the school (1969) with a slip cover bearing a sketch of the faces of a boy and a girl.

Starting in 1989, “Tower” gets into a relatively consistent format: glossy pages, clear sections, with a theme or subtitle for each volume as worked out by the successive editorial boards. The Josten Editions begin in 1996-97.

THE SAINT SCHOLASTICA IDEALS

“The college has always stressed high standards of culture but only seven years ago (1936-37) did she give her standards exact definition…by a vote of the students and the Faculty

34 Located at the University of Minnesota. The purpose of the association was “to make possible cooperative effort on the part of scholastic editors for the continuing improvement of school publications, that they may better serve the cause of education and the individual institutions they represent.” Its members “pledged themselves to aid in the advancement of ethical journalism based on sincerity, accuracy and service to their fellows. (See “Membership Certificate” in large envelope 17/20/40 “Yearbooks.”

35 Located at Marquette University. The purpose of the association was to “encourage Catholicism and technical excellence in Catholic school publications.” [See National Catholic Almanac, 1957, p. 561.]
[who made some modifications-JWE] she chose Nine Ideals to be directive norms in carrying out the cultural aims of the College of Saint Scholastica.” [“The Towers” (1944), p. 7] When planning the initial number of “The Towers,” the Nine Ideals were drawn up “to be normative of conduct for the students of that year and the future.” [“The Towers” (1946), p. 13]

The Nine Ideals:

- Regard for the Spiritual
- Loyalty
- Honesty in Word and Deed
- Appreciativesness
- Courtesy
- Initiative
- Friendliness
- Poise
- Love of Scholarship

A student exemplifying each ideal was chosen each year by a vote of the student body. The essay on the ideals by Mother Athanasius Braegleman for 1944 and each year until 1953 make up a splendid source for the idea of the mission of the college during these years. In 1954 the award for “The All College Woman” joined the Nine Ideals. This was described as the “highest of all honors” because it was given to the student who “most approximates the incorporation of the nine ideals” [“The Towers” (1955), p. 25].

In 1961, no Nine Ideals were awarded; only the “All College Woman” recognition. In 1962 this award ceased, replaced by “The St. Scholastica Leadership Award.” This recognized excellence in three areas of college activity: intellectual leadership, apostolic leadership, and social and community leadership. How recipients of the award were determined was not divulged. [“Towers” (1962) p. 39] As noted above, no leadership award was bestowed after 1968.

Although it is difficult to determine with accuracy, it seems that the SHB was published by the Student Council up to 1969-70; then by the Faculty-Student Affairs Committee for 1970-71, finally by the Office of the Dean of Students and the Student Union Board [SHB (1973-74), p. 54]. The handbook was “intended to supplement information provided in the CSS Bulletin” [SHB (1972-73), title page]. The SHB is good for “tracking” the CSS philosophy, purpose, policies, regulations, etc. over the years. In 1972-73, the title “Stepping Stones” appeared for the handbook. The files are not complete:
