

Gale Databases

The Library subscribes to around 60 databases from the Gale company including Gale Virtual Reference Library, Academic OneFile, Health and Wellness, Environmental Studies, Opposing Viewpoints, NewsVault, Diversity Studies, Gender Studies, Information Science, Leadership and Management, LegalTrac, Newstand, Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine, and more all of which operate pretty much the same way so this tutorial can help you get started.

Accessing the Database

Go to the Library Homepage css.edu/Library

Select Databases, A to Z from the column on the left or click on the Articles tab at the top.

The screenshot shows the library homepage with several red arrows highlighting key features:

- Arrows point to the Getting Started and Encyclopedias tabs in the top navigation bar.
- An arrow points to the Library open to CSS community only notice.
- Arrows point to the Contact Us and Hours links in the left sidebar.
- An arrow points to the SOLAR link in the left sidebar.
- An arrow points to the LibGuides link in the left sidebar.
- An arrow points to the Ask a CSS Librarian a question. link in the central help section.

The page includes a search bar, a navigation menu, a notice about COVID-19, a "What do you need help with?" section with a question form, and a "Library News" section featuring an article about art acquisition.

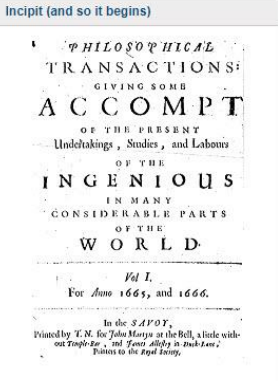

Once on Articles page, select the database you are interested either by finding it in the Best Bets tab or else by clicking on the Databases, A to Z link for an alphabetical listing of all the databases the Library subscribes to. If you are on campus, you will not need a password. Look at the other tabs and boxes for more help with finding the full-text of articles, tutorials, and more.

SOLAR

SOLAR is a database of databases. It searches all our Library resources and even some we don't own. It's a little like the old "feeling lucky" button in Google. But just like Google, or any tool, there is right time to use it. And like Google, the results can be overwhelming. Sometimes using one of our focused, discipline-specific databases can make you luckier.

Searching

Main Search Screen – defaults to Basic Search.

To search, type topic into Search... box and then click on the magnifying lens. If you need help selecting a topic, you can look at the Browse Topics option in the lower right side.

You can also click on the Subject Guide Search or Publication Search below the search box to search those aspects of articles as well.

Advanced Search - Click on Advanced Search in the upper right hand corner near the top of the screen to combine multiple ideas of your topic and also search by author, journal name, title, etc.

Click on the dropdown arrow at the end of the search boxes to search by title, author, subject heading, journal title, etc.

To string your terms together, click on the drop down arrow at the end of the and box.

Choose AND, OR, NOT to broaden or narrow your search.

AND – narrows searches by combining terms. Citations must have all your terms to be included in results list. Ex. Shellfish AND allergy AND precautions.

OR – broadens searches by searching for all terms separately. Citations will have either term. Ex. Higher Education OR College

NOT – narrows searches by excluding a portion of a large topic. Citations will have the first term but NOT the second term. Ex. Dogs NOT Poodles, Management Styles NOT TQM

You can also limit your results to documents that are full-text, from peer-reviewed publications, or have images.

Place some date restrictions by selecting before, on, after, or between and then a date.

You can select a type of document you wish to find such as a Movie Review.

Type in a publication title or publication subject if you know it; if you don't, click on the browse link to find it out.

When you have your search ready, click Search.

2020 JAN 4 (NewsRx) -- By a News Reporter-Staff News Editor at Obesity, Fitness & Wellness Week -- Investigators publish new report on Life Science Research - Wildlife Management. According to news reporting from Anchorage, Alaska, by NewsRx journalists, research stated, "Large-scale industrial activities can have negative effects on wildlife populations. Some of these effects, however, could be reduced with effective planning prior to development."

The news correspondents obtained a quote from the research from U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, "The
