Library News

No. 126

This beautiful Barred Owl visited our Duluth campus over Thanksgiving becoming the 126th bird on our local species list. Visit our Catalog of Birds to see more photos and an article on the call of the Barred Owl which was written by our colleague, Dr. Pam Freeman.

Once on Articles page, select the database you are interested either by finding it in the Best Bets tab or else by clicking on the Databases, A to Z link for an alphabetical listing of all the databases the Library subscribes to. If you are on campus, you will not need a password. Look at the other tabs and boxes for more help with finding the full-text of articles, tutorials, and more.

SOLAR

SOLAR is a database of databases. It searches all our Library resources and even some we don't own. It's a little like the old "feeling lucky" button in Google. But just like Google, or any tool, there is right time to use it. And like Google, the results can be overwhelming. Sometimes using one of our focused, discipline-specific databases can make you luckier.

Click on the dropdown arrow at the end of the All fields box to search by author, item title, abstract, or caption.

To string your terms together, click on the drop down arrow at the end of the and box. Choose AND, OR, NOT to broaden or narrow your search. NEAR 5, 10 or 25 helps with proximity searching.

AND – narrows searches by combining terms. Citations must have all your terms to be included in results list. Ex. Shellfish AND allergy AND precautions.

OR – broadens searches by searching for all terms separately. Citations will have either term. Ex. Higher Education OR College

NOT – narrows searches by excluding a portion of a large topic. Citations will have the first term but NOT the second term. Ex. Dogs NOT Poodles, Management Styles NOT TQM
You can limit your search by type of article, a date range, language, and within a given discipline or journal.

You can narrow your search by an item type, language, publication date, journal or book title, or journal filter.

Click the Search button when you are done constructing your search.

Results Screen – JSTOR is unique in that any journal that is in its database is full text back to its beginnings. So all articles in JSTOR are full text. Click on the article title to view the full text. You can sort the results by relevance, newest to oldest or oldest to newest by clicking on the pull-down arrow next to Sort by. Click on the boxes in front of articles you are interest in. You can then save, email, export, or track these selected citations.

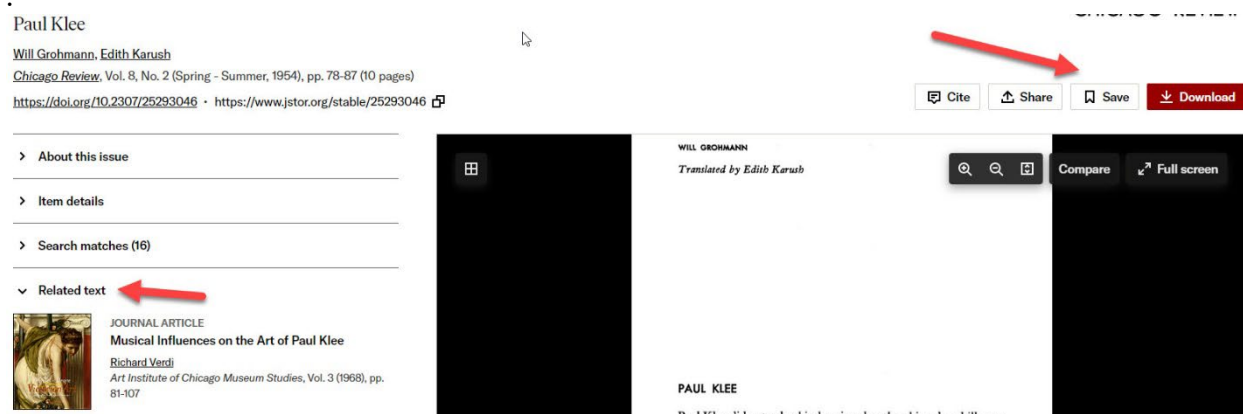

Click on the title of the article to get more information or the links to the right to download the full text of the article as a PDF or cite it. Use the links to the left to filter your results by academic or primary source content, date, or access type.

Article Information

When you click on the title of the article, you will see the full text of the article.

To the top right you can Cite, Share including sending this to email, Save, or Download the file.
