

ProQuest

Several databases the Library subscribes to are through ProQuest including Dissertations & Theses @ The College of St. Scholastica, Nursing & Allied Health Source, and Newspapers including US Newsstream (which has The New York Times, St. Cloud Times, Star Tribune, USA Today, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post and many others), and Historical Newspapers for the Minneapolis Tribune (1867-1922) and The New York Times (1851-2011).

*While the search pages might look a little different depending on which database you are using, it will largely operate the same. For example, some limits may be different for various databases.

Accessing the Database

No. 126

This beautiful Barred Owl visited our Duluth campus over Thanksgiving becoming the 126th bird on our local species list. Visit our Catalog of Birds to see more photos and an article on the call of the Barred Owl which was written by our colleague, Dr. Pam Freeman.

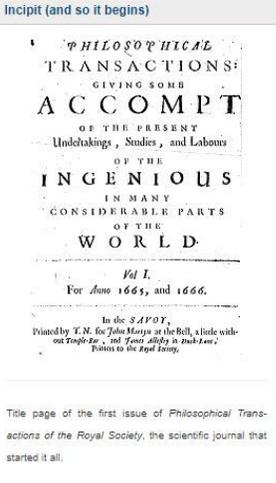

Once on Articles page, select the database you are interested either by finding it in the Best Bets tab or else by clicking on the Databases, A to Z link for an alphabetical listing of all the databases the Library subscribes to. If you are on campus, you will not need a password. Look at the other tabs and boxes for more help with finding the full-text of articles, tutorials, and more.

SOLAR

SOLAR is a database of databases. It searches all our Library resources and even some we don't own. It's a little like the old "feeling lucky" button in Google. But just like Google, or any tool, there is right time to use it. And like Google, the results can be overwhelming. Sometimes using one of our focused, discipline-specific databases can make you luckier.

Searching

Main Search Screen – defaults to a basic keyword search, which is good for simple searches. Enter a search term and click on the magnifying lens to begin. Click on Advanced Search for more search options. You can also apply some limits such as Full text and Peer reviewed.

Advanced Search

An advanced search allows you to combine multiple ideas of your topic and also search by author, document title, etc. by clicking on the pull-down menu Key fields + text.

To string your terms together, click on the drop down arrow at the end of the and box. Choose AND, OR, NOT to broaden or narrow your search.

AND – narrows searches by combining terms. Citations must have all your terms to be included in results list. Ex. Shellfish AND allergy AND precautions.

OR – broadens searches by searching for all terms separately. Citations will have either term. Ex. Higher Education OR College

NOT – narrows searches by excluding a portion of a large topic. Citations will have the first term but NOT the second term. Ex. Dogs NOT Poodles, Management Styles NOT TQM

Click on the links above search box to look up a citation, search by a very advanced method called the Command Line, or click on Find Similar to paste in text from a document to find similar items.

Below the search fields, you can place all sorts of limits including to full text, peer reviewed resources; date range; subject heading or MeSH subjects or locations; source type, document type, document feature, language, age group or gender.

Note: These limits are different for the various databases.

You can also change how your results are sorted. When your search is set up, click on the Search button.

Results List

Your Results Screen will list the articles that matched your search terms. Click on the boxes above the articles' numbers to save records in which you are interested.

Click on the article's title to get more information including a summary of the article.

In the column on the left, you can limit results by various aspects such as by full text, peer reviewed, source type, publication date, etc.

Click on the links in the upper-right corner to cite, email, print, or save your selected articles.

Below each citation you will see some or part of the following choices:

Abstract/Details –full citation that includes the abstract and the subject headings assigned to this citation.

Full Text – full-text of the article is available.

Full Text – PDF - full-text of the article is available. The article opens in Adobe Acrobat Reader.

6,195 results

This screenshot shows a search results interface. On the left, there are three filter sections: 'Sorted by' with a dropdown set to 'Relevance', 'Limit to' with checkboxes for 'Full text' and 'Peer reviewed', and 'Source type' with a list of categories including 'Scholarly Journals (4,932)', 'Books (57)', 'Audio & Video Works (2)', 'Dissertations & Theses (104)', and 'Magazines (57)'. The main results area shows two items. Item 1 is titled 'Staphylococcal Infection; Real-time PCR assay enables rapid detection of MRSA from nasal swabs' and includes a citation from 'Medical Devices & Surgical Technology Week; Atlanta'. Item 2 is titled 'Comparison of air samples, nasal swabs, ear-skin swabs and environmental dust samples for detection of methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus (MRSA) in pig herds' and includes a citation from 'Epidemiology and Infection; Cambridge'. Red arrows point to the 'Select 1-20' dropdown, the 'Cite', 'Email', 'Print', and 'Save' buttons, the 'Full text' link, and the 'Source type' filter.

Article Information

Once you click on an article's title, you will get the full entry including citation, abstract, and full text if available. Email, print, cite, export/save or tag the article by clicking on those buttons. To the right, you can also see similar items or search with indexing terms including subjects or MeSH subjects.

This screenshot shows the full text page of an article. The title is 'A comparative evaluation of ear diseases in children of higher versus lower socioeconomic status'. The authors are Chadha, S K; Agarwal, A K; Gulati, A; Garg, A. The citation is 'The Journal of Laryngology and Otology; Devon Vol. 120, Iss. 1, (Jan 2006): 16-9.' Red arrows point to the 'Download PDF', 'Cite', 'Email', and 'Print' buttons. Below the title, there are tabs for 'Full text', 'Full text - PDF', and 'Abstract/Details'. The 'Abstract' section is visible, starting with 'This study was conducted with an aim to assess the prevalence and profile of ear diseases in children from the higher and lower socioeconomic strata of society...'. On the right side, there is a search bar, the logo for 'The College of St. Scholastica', and sections for 'Cited by (6)' and 'Related items'.

Exporting Citations to EndNote

(see instructions for EndNote for information on how to use this program)

Click on the Cite button in the upper right hand corner to get this window. When you have an article you wish to add to your EndNote library, select which citation style you wish by clicking on the pull-down menu. Then click on the Copy button. Next, select the RIS button and finally click on the Done button.

The screenshot shows a window titled "Cite" with a close button in the top right corner. Below the title bar, there is a section titled "Copy citations directly into your paper". This section contains a dropdown menu currently set to "APA 6th - American Psychological Association, 6th Edition". Below the dropdown is a text box containing a citation: "Chadha, S. K., Agarwal, A. K., Gulati, A., & Garg, A. (2006). A comparative evaluation of ear diseases in children of higher versus lower socioeconomic status. The Journal of Laryngology and Otology, 120(1), 16-9. Retrieved from https://akin.css.edu/login?url=https://www.proquest.com/docview/274790946?accountid=10224". To the right of the citation text is a red arrow pointing to the dropdown menu. Below the citation text is a red arrow pointing to a "Copy" button. To the left of the "Copy" button is a "Powered by RefWorks" logo and the text "Consult RefWorks style guidelines to check the accuracy and completeness of your citations." Below this section is a section titled "Export to a citation manager or file". This section contains five circular icons: "RefWorks" (document icon), "RIS" (document icon), "DoodleTools" (document icon), "EasyBib" (document icon), and "Microsoft Excel Format" (XLS icon). A red arrow points to the "RIS" icon. At the bottom right of the window is a "Done" button, with a red arrow pointing to it.

On this pop up window, you have the option to select what information on the article to include. Click the Continue button when you have made all your selections.
